

Assigned Day	Assigned Time	Assigned Room	Name	Title	Two sentence description
Th: 2/4	5-6:30pm	Bierce Library 154	Ron Nikora	Sustained Dialogue	This is a session designed for faculty. As space is limited for this session, please contact Marnie Watson at mwatson@uakron.edu if you would like to attend.
F: 2/5	1-3:30pm	Bierce Library 154	Brant Lee	Star Power	: Ready for something more active than listening to people talk about race? Come participate in an engaging, challenging chip-trading game and try to earn the most points! In the process, you'll learn something about society and group dynamics, and you may even discover something about yourself. Maximum of 35 participants, first-come, first-served.
F: 2/5	5:30-7pm	Bierce Library 154	Amber Sylvan	F2F: Am I a Racist?	An interactive an audience driven discussion on race and the media. Awareness will be raised on issues of racism and oppression in a way that leaves participants educated.
T: 2/9	10-11:30 am	Bierce Library 154	Aimee deChambeau	Mascot Madness: The Abstract Racism of Indigenous-Based Sports Mascots	This open discussion will concentrate on the symbolic, abstract racism of Indigenous-based team names and mascots. We will explore how unauthentic representations of Native American peoples and cultures perpetuate a distorted mythology that can render racism against Native Americans invisible.
W: 2/10	1-2:30 pm	Bierce Library 154	Amy Shrivr Dreussi	Are you ready for 2040?	Demographers predict that around 2040 the United States will become a "majority minority" nation, meaning that the majority of the nation's populations will be of minority race and whites will be in the minority. Let's talk about how that change is going to impact us and our national institutions.
Th: 2/11	1:30pm-3pm	Bierce Library 154	Marnie Watson	Just Black?	The film is on mixed-race individuals (college students) discussing their experiences in negotiating those non-binary identities.
Th: 2/11	5-6:30 pm	Bierce Library 154	Jimmal Ball	The International Factor: Trail-blazing the route from Akron to Paris	After a record-breaking run as a basketball player at The University of Akron, a Canton native becomes a professional athlete, garnering 3 MVP titles and 4 national championships. As an African-American male, he discusses how race and culture affected his experiences abroad.
F: 2/12	1-2:30 pm	Bierce Library 154	Christian Howse	Lets Talk about the police	In recent history law enforcement has been jn the spotlight but not in a postive way.Lets talk about the police and use of force with minorities.