

JLSA

J. Reuben Clark Law Society

and

Jewish Law Students Association

Present:

"How has your faith informed your decisions as a lawyer?"

A Panel Discussion

April 3, 12:15-1:15 p.m., L-151.

Panelists:

Professor Richard C. Cohen

Associate Professor of Law and Director, Legal Research & Writing Program, University of Akron School of Law.

Faith Perspective: Judaism.

Attorney Joel K. Dayton

Partner at Black, McCuskey, Souers & Arbaugh in Canton, Ohio.

Faith Perspective: The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS).

Professor Sarah M.R. Cravens

Associate Professor of Professional Responsibility, University of Akron School of Law.

Faith Perspective: Protestant (Episcopalian).

Attorney Larry Vuillemin

Local attorney in private practice in Akron, Ohio and co-founder of Heart to Heart Communications.

Faith Perspective: Catholic.

Lunch will be provided to those in attendance.

JRCLS Mission Statement:

We affirm the strength brought to the law by a lawyer's personal religious conviction. We strive through public service and professional excellence to promote fairness and virtue founded upon the rule of law.

JRCLS and JLSA are registered student organizations at The University of Akron. Registration shall not be construed as approval, endorsement, or sponsorship by The University of Akron of the student organizations' publications, activities, purposes, actions, or positions.