Victoria Cundiff

Adjunct Professor, University of Pennsylvania Penn Carey Law School

Victoria Cundiff has devoted most of her legal career to helping clients navigate trade secret issues, through litigation, trade secret protection and management, and writing and teaching about trade secrets law. She was a partner for over 30 years at Paul Hastings, LLP, resident in New York, where she was a leader of the global trade secrets practice group. She has worked with clients in a wide variety of industries to protect and obtain value from their intellectual property through litigation and through forging collaborative business relationships. She is the immediate past chair of the Sedona Conference Working Group 12 on Trade Secrets Law and editor-in-chief of several Commentaries released by the Working Group. She is a co-author of the TRADE SECRET CASE MANAGEMENT JUDICIAL GUIDE, published by the Federal Judicial Conference. She has taught programs on trade secrets law for WIPO, the Federal Judicial Conference and the USPTO. She teaches trade secrets law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and intellectual property law classes at Yale Law School and other major national schools. She has been recognized by Chambers, the Best Lawyers in America and similar guides, has frequently been named one of the Top 50 Women SuperLawyers in New York, and has been named to the WIPR "Hall of Fame" for Trade Secrets Law (both International and U.S.), all in accordance with the terms of each organization.
