Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Okay, moving on to Open Student Expression.

VII. Open Student Expression

Chief Justice Stillion: I am going to be the bad guy again. I know this speaker went a little bit longer than normal, but it's very important that we keep our computers closed and pay attention to the speaker for the entire time. No one is in trouble, but just as a reminder for the future, please pay attention for the entirety of the presentation.

Advisor Ferguson-Mike: And actually, I was going to be worse, so that's exactly why I'm here before Advisor Ernst gives the report. You all have the privilege of having higher administration monthly. And then you have the mayor and you are shopping on Amazon, doing homework, checking emails. I just need to realize it. And it wasn't everyone like I know Audrey just opened up her computer. But you all have the privilege of having certain people in the room and you need to not take that for granted in the future. So, I am going to be meaner than Samuel, which is not always common, but yeah. So I'm going to say I'm, I would be lying if I said I was not slightly disappointed. He gave you guys almost a full hour and some did not adhere that attention. Thank you, Samuel for bringing that up. I would absolutely 2nd that.

Senator Spears: Uh, coming up on the close of winter sports, uh, women's, uh, swimming and diving, dominated, and they won their MAC Meet that they hosted. Um, and moving on, basketball, women's game this coming week, uh, or this weekend, and then next week, and then the men's close out tomorrow. Please tell your friends to go tomorrow and support them on senior night and then next week is the big MAC tournament up in Cleveland all weekend, Thursday, Friday, Saturday. There'll be some details to come that I can't wait to share, but it'll be a really big weekend and we can really look forward by winning and beating some Red Hawks.

Senator Shelton: I'll say it so Megan doesn't have to. Pi Hop, guys. Pi Hop is this weekend. This Sunday from 10am - 1pm. Um, so be there. It's a really good cause. It goes to our philanthropy, the Ronald McDonald house. You get a really good deal. It's $7 at the door. So, buy your tickets now from your Megan.

Coordinator Mueller: Hi, guys. Um, if you're interested, next Thursday at 5:30pm, um, the history department is having another lecture. We've got a Dr Ellen Wortzell thing. I actually don't know what university she's from, but she's going to be talking about the houses in the Mid Evil France. It should be cool. It is at 5:30pm on a Thursday and I know that's Senare. But if you're interested, I will check. We usually do a seminar beforehand where it's a little bit more of a personal conversation. It's really cool. and you could come. It's a great time.

Senator Prough: The orientation leader application closes on March 26 at 11:59 p.m. There are many people in here who would do good at that position. I'm sure you all have friends who would also do good in that position. So, tell them to apply. Please.

Chief of Staff Kelly: If you're looking for an unpaid version of that position UA Ambassador applications are also open.

Director Damson: The Francophone Student Association is looking for volunteers next week Wednesday, March 11 at 6.30pm or Saturday specifically even more please. Saturday, March 14, at 11:30am. And if you go there in 2 hours you'll have the majority of the 5 hours done. Um, but please, if you can, you know, help us volunteer, teams me, or you can talk to me right after.

Deputy Director Senko: Next Friday, March the 18th, Phi Gi is having a Phi Gi event. Um, it will be a kind of a flee market type event where you can go and shop for different clothes. So, and it all goes towards a good cause. And then on April 15th, we're having a blood drive with ZAB. So, that's a good way to get service in.

Senator Simas: The blood drive is right here in the student union as well so nice and easy.

Senator Swaminathan: On March 16th, if you guys can't make it to the Francophone associations volunteer event, you come to HR governments lucky charms event on March 16th from 6pm to 7pm. We're gonna be making cards for elderly who are in isolation. So, if you guys want to write a card to Ed, who owns meerkats, and draw a meerkat, you can do that, they're gonna mail directly to their houses. It's gonna be a great event. There's gonna be a lot of St. Patties themed food. And then add them on to Hannah Kelly, for all those 1st years in the room, Sigma Lambda applications are open, and this is a honorary for the top 1% of freshmen in the residence halls, and you can do a bunch of service, leadership, and activities such as that, just be more involved on campus, applications are due March 13th, and I am a nominator. So, if you want any more information on that reach out to me.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Anything else? All right. Moving on to the Advisor Report given by Advisor Ernst.

VIII. Advisor Report

Advisor Ernst

Advisor Ernst: First, I'll start with battleship tournament spots still open. So, if anyone, um, wants to grab some friends we can still do that. That is March 11th from 8pm to 10pm in the ONAT. So that's a really cool. Secondly, bittersweet announcement for me. I got offered a position at a different institution that I have decided to take. It was an opportunity to accelerate in my career. So, I am absolutely so grateful for everything that Britney and student life office has done for me has a fresh grad coming out of grad school trying to make it in the professional circumstance. Um, I appreciate everything that you guys have awarded to me to learn all about the world of USG. This is my first dip into this type of things too. So, I deeply appreciate all of you guys for everything you have done for me. My last day will be next Friday. I know that is fast, but if anyone wants to talk anything, events, service, ZAB, student life, anything like that, please come find me.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Moving on to Branch Reports First report is the legislative branch report given by me.

IX. Branch Reports

a. Legislative Branch Report

Vice Senate Chair McCracken

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Thank you, everyone. That was attentive for our guests today. Reminder that we do have Feb 5 today during discussion, so committee chairs, please stay for that. This week, we held our mid-semester review session, so Senate Chair Kasik and I will be reviewing all of your answers next week and then adjusting accordingly. Next week, we have Provost Price coming to talk about academic retention and budget cuts. So please come prepare with any questions. But during discussion, we will also have Chief of Staff Kelly presenting a LinkedIn workshop. So, thank you, very excited for that. Um, we've been talking about this for a few weeks, but if any senator is interested in leading a Senate meeting, please reach out to Senate Chair Kasik. I know some of you guys are rerunning. Um, so this will be a really good experience for those of you that are interested. We've also begun planning for the last Senate meeting of this academic year and first Senate meeting for next academic year. So please get hyped. Um, and then just a final reminder, uh, when you're sending emails, also CC, Advisor Ferguson-Mike, it is important that we keep her in the loop about what all you are all working on so she can provide an additional perspective. Any questions? Perfect. Next, we have the judicial brunch report given by Executive Justice Reimer.

b. Judicial Branch Report

Executive Justice Reimer

Executive Justice Reimer: I'm sure you all miss me so much from last week, but I gave the DLT report, for Chief Justice Stillion.. All right, so I have a pretty short report for you, as in JB style. So, we had an election grievance. We voted on that grievance on our meeting at our meeting on this past Tuesday. But I wanted to give everyone a nice little break and not force them to have an opinion ready by today, so we'll have the opinion ready by next week. And as a reminder, we present that to Senate, just for transparency reasons, so everyone is aware of what we're doing in JB. We also completed the newsletter, so the January and February newsletter, we went through that and reviewed it on Tuesday in our meeting, and we'll be sending out sending it out in the zip mail next week. I'm going to leave. I have a couple copies of it up here, so if any of you guys want to look at that after the meeting, come pick it up, spread it around campus, whatever you want to do with it. I don't really care. But I'm gonna leave that up here. We also had pizza at our meeting. Madeline Fran, from UAkron Park, knocked on our door, and delivered us some pizza. So, I didn't know that was gonna happen, but it was very exciting. I felt you guys needed to know that. Um, and then finally, uh, as some of you may know, we are working with SOURCE in the judicial branch now. We are reviewing documents for new student organizations. So we did not have enough time again, because I talked a lot when I was doing my vice week fields. Uh, but we, uh, me and Chief Justice Stillion are getting those done, and we'll be sending those out, uh, probably Friday or next week, or next week. So yeah, that's all I have.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Moving on to the Executive Branch Report given by Vice President Tsige.

c. Executive Branch Report

Vice President Tsige

Vice President Tsige: Alright, cool. So, of course, this week, it spies me, so you guys all got an all USG email from me. You got the hidden question, which I think was pretty hidden, because even President Shaw was struggling to find that question earlier. Um, this past week, we finished our EB mid semester reviews. We had all of our general members this week, and then we had the directors last week. Had some great discussions with all of you guys. In terms of our vacant E.B. positions, it's the same as every week, but we did just have an applicant for Deputy Chief of Staff. So, President Shaw and I will be having an interview with them next week. Of course, as most of you guys know, the USG Spring Retreat is tomorrow from 6pm to 8pm in the Honors Common Room, and we have requested for you guys to wear your new USG shirt. If you guys have not gotten that yet, feel free to ask any DLT member and we can give you guys one, of course. With the USG membership campus outreach initiative, Chief of Staff Kelly reached out to those who had not filled out the Excel sheet. So, if you have not, please make sure to pull that out as soon as possible, place the organization that you'll be talking to and the people that you'll be reaching out to, and then ensure to give them that student body feedback form as well. Um, in terms of the end of year awards, of course, we've been notifying you guys. We highly encourage you guys to submit either yourself or a fellow USG member for the award, which can be accessed on that form in the all-USG email. Submissions do close next Friday, so make sure to look into that as soon as possible. And in terms of events, it's the same thing. We have our spring retreat. We have a collaboration with ZAB for the Women's History Month, next Tuesday. I'll be there, so feel free to stop by and see me. We also have an event called Speak your Zip, which will be on Tuesday, March 17th, 2:30pm to 3:30pm outside of the student union. We have our canes fundraiser coming up. And, of course, our end of year award ceremony, which, of course, each of you guys are aloud a +one, so more information will be coming out regarding that by Chief of Staff Kelly. And I'll have one thing to note, the graduate student government did reach out to us talking about their election cycle, so I don't know if any of you guys who are graduating are considering wanting to be a GSG, they're open positions are president, vice president, treasurer, and then coordinator, and then they have senators for each of the colleges, and then in terms of their candidates, it's open until March 13th, and voting is from March 16th through the 19th. So, if you're interested in wanting to be in government again, feel free to apply through that.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Now moving on to the Finance Report given by Deputy Director Jovicic.

d. Finance Report

Deputy Director Jovicic

Deputy Director Jovicic: Hi, everyone. Uh, pretty short finance report this week. No allocations were approved. Both on the non-traveling and travel side, so not much going on there. In terms of here in USG, we've got everything with the Akron Small Business series, 100 Years of Black History, the elections materials and the Rubber Ducks game, everything kind of came in through last week. So, that's adding up to about 1000 bucks. Beyond that, there isn't really anything else.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: All right, moving on to the DLT report given by Chief Justice Stillion.

e. DLT Report

Chief Justice Stillion

Chief Justice Stillion: Uh, since it's Vice Week. But we did have a guest this week, Senator Shelton. Yay. Just a reminder. As a reminder, our DLT meetings, just like Senate, are open to anybody. You're available Monday nights, stop by, and hang out. We probably won't kick you off to talk about sensitive information, but it does happen. So be prepared if you want to stop by.

But please do, if you're interested, especially if you're interested in running for a position in DLT next year or applying for one. But our bonding question, what's one hobby you always wanted to try? We had a various amount of answers. But we spent some time talking about the international students concern, looked over some responses that other universities have given to ICE on their campuses, both in terms of the administration's statements, and any statements made by student bodies on that campus. We're going to look over those for the remainder of this week and come back to DLT next week with a formulated idea of what maybe we want to do as an organization of representatives. We discussed the campus outreach initiative as well, but you've already heard a lot of that in the executive branch report, just a reminder, to get that done if you haven't already, reach out to Chief of Staff Kelly if you have any questions. Talked about the life awards, once again, the D.E.I. team voted, I think already this week on their life award. Or tomorrow. F.A.S.T. Committee voted this week already. And DLT will be voting on that of the week before spring break on the larger AK Awards, as well as faculty engagement. So we just ensure that everyone had access to the information for that. And then we've begun planning for the inauguration ceremony, our last meeting at the end of the year, that is built the last meeting of this academic year, and the 1st meeting, next academic year, so it's always super fun and easy to follow. We're trying to figure out exactly what we want to do with that. We're building off of pretty much what happened last year, with a few tweaks here and there, but the plan right now, Thursday, April 30th, 5pm to 7pm. In Crouse 101. But the fun thing DLT gets to do is every single person we've worked with on campus, as undergraduate student government, DLT gets to go around to all of them, at least as what we did last year, hope we do it again, and hand deliver invitations to this meeting. So, we will be out and about going on tours. Um, end of year award ceremony, also, uh, it's going to be addressed tomorrow, so you'll hear more about that. There will be a sign up for that next week. Vice week was this week. I hope you already were aware of that. It'd be really weird if this was the first time you found out. But, and then as always, we are working through our transition packets, big, thick, fully page documents about what we've done. I don't think there's anything else.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: All right. On to the Elections Board Report.

X. Committee Reports

a. Elections Board Report

Elections Chair Stillion

Elections Chair Stillion: As I mentioned last week, we are currently in both a regular election cycle and a special election cycle. Whoa, it's a lot. I tried to get into GSG's election cycle, but I wasn't fast enough. Like, I tried to run it for them. Trying to be like, do you want me to help out? But they got there before I could. So, we only have two. But for the regular election cycle, the candidates list is public. It's on the USG, Instagram. It is downstairs, over there, in the student union. It will be down there until spring break. Stop by, take a look at it, see who you, who the people who may be potentially taking some of your positions next year are. But with that campaigning is open until the Thursday before spring break, 3/19, voting opens that Monday, 3/16. At the same time GSG's voting, they stole that from us. I want that clear in the record. that we have these dates before they did, but it's okay. No beef, they're cool. In terms of the special election, the application closes tomorrow at 11:59 p.m. for those of you that may not be aware, because you weren't here last week. The special election is for our president and vice-presidential candidates. So, no senators in that election, only presidential applicants. So, if you or anyone you know is interested, you have until tomorrow night. And I say that every year. Any questions? I have memes, too. I have one meme.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Thank you. Moving on to the F.A.S.T. Committee Report given by Senator Flickinger.

b. F.A.S.T. Committee Report

Senator Flickinger

Senator Flickinger: Um, this week we decided to move the upcoming F.A.S.T. tour to the student union because Goodyear is closed. We also went over the life awards as Chief Justice Stillion and others mentioned, and individual updates, pretty much everyone knows what we've been doing. Senator Blankenship was working on the Meyer school art project. I was going to meet with the Office of Admissions today that was rescheduled, and I am reworking my legislation. Senator Messmer, received in response and is making some progress. So that's good. Uh, Senator Pence, uh, announced that ZipAssist will now be handing out cards with meal swipes for those in need, so that is a great progress that the USG has made. Please go to Senator Pence with further questions, and... And he is continuing further outreach in that same area. Senator Shelton has 2 pieces of legislation in the works and now made progress on the bridge, which is not on here. That's awesome. And yeah, we didn't do Roblox because it was a weird meeting this week.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Moving on to the A.P.S.S. Committee Report given by Senator Swaminathan.

c. A.P.S.S. Committee Report

Senator Swaminathan

Senator Swaminathan: Um, so, first up, we have Senator Gnap. She is on the bierce library initiative scouting, and finally, has gotten to, I think she's contacting people. Have you guys seen the Grounf Floor round tables? They're pretty nasty. They're, like, taped up, and so she's working on fixing those, and then she's also meeting with housing, um, to work on the honor's staircase. If you guys didn't know, the external staircase, you can only go down. You can't go up. So, a lot of people don't want to use the stinky elevators, so... That's the work that Senator Gnap is doing. Senator Prough is working on a couple of different things. His outdoor court project, he met with Nick Weber this week, and he is planning on meeting with capital planning for that project. And he met with the president of the student Nurse Association and talked about how he could help form a BCAS student association project. He's gonna plan on using that framework for BCAS. Um, and Yeah, okay, moving on, Senator Sterns. He finally turned his legislation, you guys. It's coming on the floor today. And he set up a meeting with UAPD for the Night Temple Lab Camera Initiative. He's meeting with them tomorrow. And then I've kind of been jumping around everywhere. Um, I'm sitting in a meeting with synthesis for the sanitary product initiative to help them keep, um, the machines are on campus, replenished accordingly, and getting them to put in new, um, machines at the places where it seemed to the most, so such as a library, and Rob's dining hall, on touring, is that all this Saturday, because one of my friends just dance major brought it to my attention that they don't have blocks, and they have to get blocks, but a lot of students don't get the locks they need for their dance lockers. And I've also been helping out at admissions, I reached out to Kim Gentile, and I've been writing little handwritten cards for the students coming from Michigan to Akron. And then I've been working with the amazing Director of Communications Cameron, and we've been going full speed on the A.P.S.S. and social media initiative. So, seniors, if you guys have seen the email from hiring, please respond and reach out to her and record that quick video about highlighting what academic resources helped at Akron.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Moving on to the S.E. Committee Report given by Senator Simas.

d. S.E. Committee Report

Senator Simas

Senator Simas: This week, we got a lot of stuff done, so Kleinschmidt met with the SAFE team, not the SAFE team. We learned that this week. She's very excited for potential collaboration on both ends. And she set up a meeting, the assistant dean of students, to discuss our April initiative. Senator Spears did a lot of organizational things this week. Make sure to keep those project trackers and membership departments up to date. And he's drafted an email. He's not received approval yet. So hopefully that's coming soon. Never mind. He's received approval, so we're back. Senator Bass, um, as, uh, this week, he toured the bathrooms with Senator Kleinschmidt around campus, uh, make sure everything's looking all right. And he's also brainstorming a potential revamp of the student outreach form we'd been talking about this week.

Senator Roskam. We welcome her to the SE committee. She's thinking about ways to get the sports portion of College Health and Human Sciences involved. Sent a outreach form to the athletic coaching club. And she's, thinking about a requirement, USG requirement, where senators, representing specific colleges, have to reach out to the dean just to get acquainted. Then I have sent out an email to the University brand office regarding AI usage and university advertisements, generative AI. I'm currently working on a response. I got one back pretty quick. Um, and I'm also waiting approval to follow up to, um, the leaders of political student organizations here on campus. We had Q of the D, and I put the question in there per Senator Stern's request. What we'd add to the student union, so some funny responses in there, some elaborate. And then we jumped on the meme train this week. We have two.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Thank you, Senator Simas. Moving on to the Director Reports stating with th D.E.I Report given by Vice President Tsige.

XI. Director Reports

a. D.E.I. Report

Vice President Tsige

Vice President Tsige: So, last week, the D.E.I. team hosted a tabling event, celebrating the 100 years of Black History Month, where students have the opportunity to gauge with historical highlights and reflect on the legacy impact of black leaders in the community. So, the overall event helped bring awareness of the significance of Black History Month and encourage meaningful conversations amongst students. I don't know, many of you guys stopped by, but that went really well for them. And in terms of spring programming, of course, I kind of went to this in the EB report, but the Womens empowerment movement is upcoming, it's on. Monday, March 16th from 6pm to 8 pm. I'm planning is still ongoing for the team and they're working on finalizing their speakers. the promotion and the event logistics. Within the all-USg email, the link is in there. If you guys wanna sign up, if you're interested to attend, anyone is welcome to be there. And in terms of a cultural night that's currently being planned for April and collaboration with several student organizations, the goal of this event is to celebrate and highlight that a verse. cultures represented within you receive accurate community. So more information regarding that event will be coming soon. And then in terms of the soccer tournament, this was in discussion, but we have decided to postpone this for next semester or next academic term. So, girl, you will be in you, she next next year, when you reapply, just keep a lookout for that event. And in terms of looking ahead, they're gonna continue refining and coordinating spring programming, strengthen their partnerships with student organizations for upcoming events, increase outreach and engagement across campus through collaborative programming and inclusive initiatives.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: All right, moving on to the project coordination report given by Director Muller.

b. Project Coordination Report

Director Muller

Director Mueller: Hello. Okay. I actually don't have that much this week. I can do everyone who's been to mega events. We're very happy to be busy. Um, some past events we just finished, we did the, um, tabling preparations with BEC and the AK Rowdies. We just had the blanket tie service event, and then the 100 Years of Black History Month, which was great. Upcoming, we've got this spring retreat, because tomorrow, be there. You have to. Um, I'm working on, well, the movie nights on hold right now, but I'm also working on the woman leaderships on it. And then we are working on the safety walks, so they can be on those, please. And then we also have some new events that are coming up. The speak your zip is actually going to be March 19th, not 17th. Just got emails from, uh, like literally just got emails about the room reservation or the team reservation. And then we're also going to be working on the end of year in celebration.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: Moving on to the Community and Campus Outreach Report given by Deputy Director Senko.

c. Community and Campus Outreach Report Deputy Director Senko

Deputy Director Senko: Uh, so, updates from past weeks. Greek life liaison Knopp had tie blanket event, and it went well. Upcoming plans, Director Ruffin. Canes fundraiser will be coming up next month. Director Ruffin and Deputy Moore, looking to have an event in the future, writing a letter to future yourself, also working on an event called Speak your Zip.

Deputy Moore is also working on a collaboration with Zip's Vote. Myself, I am, I guess, I'll be passing out information and stamps to downtown businesses next week, or maybe I won't have time tomorrow. But next week. So, that event will be getting going soon. It would be cool if anyone wanted to do it. Greek life liaison Knopp, Deputy Moore, and then Greek Life liaison Jackson are working on Take Back the Night. Health and Safety Officer Greene is planning safety walks this semester and also planning a de-stress event during finals event, and then Greek Life Liaison Jackson is planning on campus.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: All right, now we're onto the Communications Report given by Director Cameron.

d. Communications Report

Director Cameron

Director Cameron: Last report. Get. So, some exciting news for us. We just have a new weekly meeting time since we have a new committee meeting member, and that is Monday from 6pm to 7pm in the USG office. Come hang out, talk about socials. And then just a reminder to please submit your marketing request at least 3 weeks in advance. We only have a couple members, so it just gives us time to get those done in a nice way. And then request progress, so current requests that are being worked on is, like I mentioned, A.P.S.S. senior academics videos. They're starting to be recorded tomorrow. So, if you haven't responded, please do. We only have about 3 responses and we'd love to have you go to the end of the semester. And then with the speak your zip post, and then request a post-completed since last all USG, we had the sentence speakers open to all story, open the empowerment summit post, Chipotle fundraiser post, the Cains fundraiser post, 2 of the safety lock posts, the 100 years of Black History Month event post, and a photo recap of that, which was super cool. The tie it forward post, special elections announcement post, USG elections, meet and greet post, and then the student trustee post.

Vice Senate Chair McCracken: All right, we're on to new business.
